COMMUNITY LEGAL SERVICES, INC., PHILADELPHIA

Executive Director, 1986-1995

Director of one of the nation's largest and most highly respected legal services programs providing free civil legal assistance to low-income individuals and groups. Exercised overall responsibility for the delivery of legal services to approximately 30,000 clients each year and supervision of approximately 150 employees (including fifty-three lawyers and forty-five paralegals), including fiscal responsibility, budgeting and fundraising for an eight million dollar non-profit corporation, and engaging closely with a large board of trustees and leaders of local bar association, legal community, and client community.

While serving as director, CLS was assessed by a scholarly study to be "the most successful of all legal services programs" in the nation. See Allen Redlich, Who Will Litigate Constitutional Issues for the Poor?, 19 HASTINGS CONST. L.Q. 745, 773 (1992).

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW (CAMDEN)
Adjunct Professor of Law, 1991-1995

Taught upper-class seminar on Poverty Law each spring semester.

COMMUNITY LEGAL SERVICES, INC., PHILADELPHIA
Managing Attorney, Law Center South (1978-1986)
Supervising Attorney, Housing Unit (1977-1978)
Staff Attorney, Law Center West (1974-1977)

As managing attorney of the program's South Philadelphia office, responsible for the direct supervision and evaluation of twenty-five attorneys, paralegals, law students and support staff, while also maintaining a caseload concentrating on employment, housing, consumer, and family law problems. Developed a grant proposal which resulted in substantial new funding that established the program's first citywide project specializing in legal services to the vulnerable elderly.

As supervising attorney of the program's citywide public housing unit, specialized in law reform and individual cases serving the housing needs of tenants residing in subsidized housing units. Counsel to several large tenant organizations and class counsel in important class action litigation resulting in procedural due process protections for public housing tenants.

As staff attorney, exercised general civil caseload responsibilities providing legal services to low income individuals and community groups on a broad range of civil matters, including housing, consumer, employment, public benefits and family law problems.
