PAPER INFORMATION

Topic
Your topic is of your choice, related of course to intellectual property and hopefully related to the strategic aspects of IP that we'll be discussing through the course. I want to hear from you about your topic by February 21. I'm glad to assist folks in developing topics of interest.

Length
Twenty five to thirty pages, double spaced, with 1 inch margins. Definitely no longer than 30 pages.

Drafts
I am happy to read a rough draft or an outline and provide comments. This is optional — you are not required to avail yourself of this service. If you are going to give me a draft, expect about a one week turnaround. I'll not accept any drafts after Thursday, March 21.

Presentations
Each student will present in about 20 minutes their research to the class on a designated day. As part of the presentation, you should provide the students with background materials at least a week before class give them to me and I'll get them copied and put in the distribution center. You need not provide a draft if you don’t have one though I certainly hope that the later presentations will provide at least excerpts of drafts. During the presentations, students are expected to ask questions. Sign ups for presentations are available now; let the instructor know by email of your choice date. Students will be assigned a presentation date on February 7.

Due Date
The absolute final due date for your papers is the last day of classes, April 11, 2002.
