TPIC's Guide to Summer Pro Bono

This flowchart will help you navigate your Summer 2020 Pro Bono experience. If you have any questions, please reach out to TPIC. Remember, hours logged during the summer are eligible for distinction only. They may not be used to satisfy the JD graduation requirement.

Is this work outside of my summer placement?
- no: We encourage you to engage in service, but work done as part of your summer internship will not count towards Pro Bono Distinction. This work may still satisfy the New York Pro Bono requirement. You can learn more about that requirement here.

Is this work Penn Law Pro Bono eligible?
- no
  - not sure: We encourage you to engage in service, but work done that is not Penn Law Pro Bono eligible will not count towards Pro Bono Distinction. This work may still satisfy the New York Pro Bono requirement. You can learn more about that requirement here.

  - yes: Click here to see if it is eligible by checking the Pro Bono FAQ Page.

Was this work sent out by TPIC or a Student Pro Bono Project?
- no
  - yes: Please make sure you submit a Self-Initiated placement form. Click here.

  - not sure: Make sure you log your hours in Replicon as during the academic year. Click here for our Replicon FAQ.

If your project has been approved.
- no: Make sure you log your hours in Replicon as during the academic year. Click here for our Replicon FAQ.

If you still have questions please reach out to TPIC by emailing all-tpic@law.upenn.edu