Subject: OCI date finalized for week of January 11, 2021

Dear _____,

We write to share with you an update to OCI, along with information about the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School and our commitment to your future lawyers. First, in light of the challenges our students and their families are facing, we have decided not to increase tuition for the coming year. This commitment comes alongside additional training and support (outlined below), adding up to an increased investment in the talented, committed, and skilled professionals you want to join your practice.

OCI rescheduled: We are happy to report that we have finalized our plans for our On-Campus Interview Program (“OCI”), which is now scheduled for the week of January 11, 2021, with our Regional Recruiting program the preceding week (January 4). As we revise our programs for this new schedule, and adapt to the ongoing uncertainties, we will stay in touch with you. As always, we want to match your needs to our talented students – that goal remains unchanged.

As we mentioned in our last communication, we will carry over to January 2021 registrations you’ve made for our 2020 Regional Interview Program and Summer 2020 Resume Collections. If you would like to handle it differently, please just let us know.

Amplifying summer experiences: We understand that the pandemic has disrupted your organization in many ways, including significant changes to summer programs. We have adapted to these changes by providing our students a wide range of academic and experiential opportunities:

- graded academic courses;
- professional development opportunities to build expertise in substantive areas of the law, legal research and writing, and professionalism skills; and
- partnerships between our Legal Education Programs, Wharton business education and firms to provide a range training relevant to your practice and business operations. (If you’d like to explore how these offerings might complement your summer program, we’re happy to connect you).

Looking ahead: As the economy reopens and you begin to contemplate recruiting your next great class of lawyers, we are excited to partner with you to continue to facilitate connecting our talented students with your outstanding career opportunities. We look forward to engaging with you on new formats and programs for information sharing, networking, and recruiting programs.

We value our relationships with you and welcome your input. Throughout the summer we will remain available by email, phone or videoconference. While our search is underway for our Director of Private Sector Recruiting, we have established a dedicated email address for legal recruiters, Recruiting@law.upenn.edu. And, of course, my door is always open! We look forward to hearing from you soon. Stay well.

Best,

Mo Reilly
