

Miriam Enriquez, Assistant General Counsel, Comcast

Enriquez currently holds the position of Assistant General Counsel at Comcast Cable focused on building a culture of ethical business conduct. She conducts and directs internal investigations of potential violations of laws, regulations, policies and the company's Code of Conduct. Enriquez also designs and implements policies and procedures to assure compliance. She advises executives and business units on security matters, interactions with law enforcement, background checks, managing legal requests for company or customer information and more. Enriquez was part of a team that conceived of and helped implement an initiative to deliver 2020 voter education information to viewers using Xfinity's X1 and Flex platforms.

Prior to working at Comcast, Enriquez served for nearly four years as Philadelphia Mayor Jim Kenney's appointed Director of the Office of Immigrant Affairs. She provided strategic policy advice on immigrants, refugees, law enforcement and criminal justice. Enriquez recommended and developed key programs and policies allowing immigrants to successfully integrate into the civic, economic, and social fabric of the City. This work included citizenship initiatives, deportation defense, municipal IDs, language access, immigrant workers rights, workforce development, cultural programs and community outreach. Enriquez nationally represented Mayor Kenney on immigration matters working with elected officials and other state and local governments. She was also responsible for responding to federal immigration policies that affected the City. Enriquez was part of the City's legal strategy team that made key decisions and successfully kept the Department of Justice from withholding crucial federal funding via The City of Philadelphia v. Sessions. Enriquez spearheaded the legislative effort to make the Office of Immigrant Affairs a permanent part of Philadelphia's Home Rule Charter and guarantee that immigrants will always have a voice in Philadelphia government.

Before joining the Office of Immigrant Affairs, Enriquez served as City Councilman-at-Large Dennis M. O'Brien's Director of Legislation and Policy. In that role, she was instrumental in crafting and passing landmark legislation to protect immigration services consumers in the City. This legislation has since served as a model for other jurisdictions in Pennsylvania, Georgia, Colorado and Texas. Prior to her work on City Council, Enriquez served as an Assistant District Attorney at the Philadelphia District Attorney's Office for seven years. She advocated for countless victims and successfully prosecuted thousands of misdemeanor and felony cases, impacting every city neighborhood. Enriquez was a pioneer prosecutor in the Gun Violence Task Force, where she fought tirelessly against gun trafficking in Philadelphia.

Enriquez is a lecturer of law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, where she teaches professional responsibility in public interest practice.

Enriquez has been the recipient of numerous awards, including La Justicia Award from the Hispanic Bar Association of Pennsylvania, the Power Award from the Professional Women's Roundtable, the Golden Door Award for Advocacy from HIAS Pennsylvania, the Delaware Valley's Most Influential Latino Award from Impacto Latin Newspaper, Women at the Top Award from Al Dia News and Billy Penn's Who's Next in Law 2016 Award. Most recently, Enriquez was selected for Leadership Philadelphia's Core Class of 2019. Enriquez received her B.A. with distinction from George Mason University and her J.D. from The Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University, where she attended on a full-academic scholarship and received awards in the areas of Immigration Law, Comparative Law and Civil Rights Litigation. Most recently, Enriquez served as one of the law school Dean's trusted advisors on Diversity and Inclusion.

Enriquez was born in the United States but spent much of her childhood living in several different Latin American countries, including her family's country of origin, Nicaragua.
