CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition Fellowship

The Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition (CTIC) invites applications for a CTIC Fellowship at the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School starting in 2021 for a one-year appointment, with the potential for a one-year extension. The fellow will work with Professor Christopher Yoo and project partners across multiple disciplines on antitrust and competition law research.

Responsibilities of the fellow will include but are not limited to:

- Conducting research on competition policy and antitrust
- Support for initiative exploring lessons from ex ante regulation in sectors such as railroads, telecommunications, financial services, energy, and media, including organization of conferences and production of an edited volume
- Assisting with academic writing
- Speaking and presenting research at conferences
- Developing reports, research protocols, and other pertinent documents
- Events to spotlight supported research to the policymaking community

Applicants must have earned a law degree or a Ph.D. in economics, computer science, electrical engineering, or some other relevant discipline. Interest and experience in empirical work in antitrust or industrial organization is preferred.

Applicants should submit the following materials at <https://apply.interfolio.com/78639>:

1. Curriculum vitae
2. Transcript
3. Writing sample(s)
4. Two letters of recommendation

Applications may be considered on a rolling basis. As a result, this position may be filled prior to the application deadline. Questions about this position should be sent to Caroline Olson, Managing Director, CTIC at cmolson@law.upenn.edu.
