OFFICE OF EQUITY & INCLUSION'S STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD MEMBER

Tayler Evan Daniels is a 2L from Dallas, TX. He studied Drama & Stage Direction at the University of Oklahoma where he was awarded the Letzeiser Gold Medal. After graduating, Tayler worked as a public-school theatre teacher for 6-12th graders. He then worked at Deloitte for two years before coming to law school.

At Penn Law, Tayler is a Levy Scholar who is interested in advocating and promoting the goals of LGBTQIA+ students of color both in the law school and the legal community at large. He currently serves as Co-President of Lambda, Vice President of Black Law Student Association, an Exec member of the Light Opera, an Associate Editor for the Journal of Law & Social Change, and is involved with the Trans Empowerment & Advocacy Project. To destress from Law School Tayler can be found pushing his culinary boundaries by accepting any baking challenge, perfecting his margarita recipe, or putting on plays with his dog Sam.
