

Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition Awards Three 2022 Summer Public Interest Fellowships to Penn Carey Law School Students

Contact: Eileen Kenney, CTIC, ekenney2@law.upenn.edu; 215.629.6705

PHILADELPHIA (May 25, 2022) – The Center of Technology, Innovation and Competition (CTIC) at the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School selected three University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School students to receive a CTIC 2022 Summer Public Interest Fellowship. CTIC's summer public interest fellowship program provides funding to 1L and 2L Penn Law students who obtain internships with public interest or government organizations doing work in technology policy, IP, privacy, and other areas.

“CTIC is always pleased to offer these fellowships to Penn Carey Law students,” said Christopher Yoo, Penn Law professor and CTIC’s director. They provide students with the opportunity to obtain legal work experience and contribute to the good work done by nonprofits and government offices in any number of technology-related policy, regulatory, and enforcement areas.”

This summer’s recipients and where they will be interning are:

Katie Cohen (L'24), Summer Law Clerk, Office of the General Counsel, University of Pennsylvania and Penn Medicine

Shashank Sirivolu (L'24), Summer Legal Intern, Electronic Frontier Foundation (EFF)

Yifan (Molly) Zhang (L'23), Legal Intern, Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General

Yoo added, “CTIC students never fail to comment on how gratifying their fellowship is. We look forward to hearing about Katie’s, Shashank’s and Molly’s experiences at the end of the summer.”

About the Center for Technology, Innovation and Competition (CTIC)

CTIC is an interdisciplinary academic center at the University of Pennsylvania Carey Law School. Focusing on intellectual property, antitrust, Internet law, and privacy law and policy, CTIC delivers foundational research and programs that shape the way scholars, legislators, and governmental agencies develop policy and regulatory frameworks. www.pennCTIC.org | @pennlawctic