Diversity Lecture Series

The Diversity Lecture Series is sponsored by the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs and intends to give insight and opportunity with an increased understanding surrounding issues of diversity and inclusion.

The series is designed to introduce an essential component of education with encouraging civil debate, broadening the basis for critical thought and cultural understanding.

The lectures consist of a series of presentations by members of Penn’s intellectual figures in the areas of education, medicine, religion and the arts.

Register for this event at: http://www.upenn.edu/affirm-action/offerings.html

The Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs
Phone: 215 898-6993

The Lecture Series is free and open to the public.