Laurence Neill Nathan
CERL Visiting Fellow

Laurie Nathan is a Professor and the Director for the Centre for Mediation in Africa at the University of Pretoria. He has been awarded the Perry World House International Visitors Grant and will be joining CERL from June 2017 through December 2017. Professor Nathan’s visit will include faculty talks, guest lectures, public presentations, and addresses to students. His focus will revolve around global themes related to law and ethics of war, mediation and national security. Professor Nathan will also focus on the impact of the United Nations on these issues. He will also be responsible for compiling and editing a volume that grows out of CERL's conference from Spring 2016, entitled The Ethics of Negotiation and the Rule of Law. Laurie has a PhD in Historical Studies from the University of Cape Town and a M.Phil from the School of Peace Studies at Bradford University.
