Comment responses

9. Is there any special preparation or background necessary to take this course?

Comments
No
Not really, but stat and econ helpful
Maybe having some basic econ knowledge would be helpful
Background in economics useful but not necessarily
An economics background certainly helps.

10. Comment on the instructor's (Jonathan Klick) stimulation of interest in the subject matter and independent thought.

Comments
Klick is simply terrific
Hmmmm. I'm conflicted on Klick. He clearly knows the subject matter and is passionate about it. But he sometimes bites off more than he can chew. He sends out all these papers that nobody reads, and then the whole class lacks focus. I know that it takes a lot of effort, but this class would massively benefit from slides that are distributed.
Great prof, this is clearly his wheelhouse
Klick is amazing at bringing concepts to life and stimulating interest
Professor Klick is the best– very interesting and knowledgeable.

11. Comment on the instructor (Jonathan Klick) with respect to attitude toward students and accessibility outside of class.

Excellent.
Fine
He is very approachable and easy to talk to.

12. Comment on the strengths and weaknesses of the course. How could it be improved?

Comments

See above – very conflicted. Use slides. And nobody reads the papers. And nobody knows what the hell you will test on Great prof, great course, very interesting.
Prof assigned a very high amount of reading but made it clear that we didnt have to do any of it. I might recommend assigning a lower volume of pages to read per night, because then some folks other than the gunner hardos might actually do the reading. OR you could tell us in advance to make sure to read one paper, and I think that also would have inspired folks to at least do one reading.
It should definitely just be an antitrust class. I think the topics overlapped a lot with Deals and many of them were straightforward. Going back to just antitrust would be better.

LOVE the laissez faire attitude towards the class.
Will look to take another class w this prof.
It was a lot of reading. I probably under-read because I was so overwhelmed by assignments. It might be helpful to reduce readings, abridge readings, or categorize them as "critical" v "optional" or something like that
