

Office of Inclusion and Engagement
Student Advisory Board Member

Folasade K. Famakinwa L'21

Folasade K. Famakinwa grew up on Long Island, New York and attended Cornell University, where she majored in Human Development. Sade also received her Masters in Social Policy from the University of Pennsylvania. Prior to attending Penn Law, she worked as a paralegal, a Coro Fellow in Public Affairs, and a consultant for minority and women owned businesses. Sade was also an SEO fellow and split her 1L summer working at Aluko & Oyebode (a Nigerian corporate law firm) and as a judicial intern at the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Sade is a 2L and is also involved in the Democracy Law Project, National Lawyers Guild, and is an Associate Editor for the Journal of Law and Social Change. In her free time, she enjoys watching movies, going to the beach, and listening to music.