Since we began in 1989, over 90% of our time has been expended on employment class actions and the balance on other multi-plaintiff litigation and on individual employment matters. The firm currently employs 15 lawyers and about 30 legal assistants and other employees. Our practice brings us before state and federal courts throughout the country and pits us against some of the nation's largest companies and law firms. Despite the odds against plaintiffs in battling defendants with virtually unlimited resources, we have enjoyed remarkable success. In virtually all of our cases, plaintiffs and class members have emerged with handsome monetary awards, and the defendants have agreed or been forced to reform the practices that resulted in the litigation.
